Dear Ashok,

I completely understand and appreciate that there are multiple activities currently in progress within the project, and I truly value the efforts being put in by the entire team to ensure timely delivery of all project milestones.

Since I was realigned to the 5paisa CRM Team on 15th May, I have remained fully committed to the project and have worked closely with business stakeholders, vendors, and internal teams to successfully drive and close multiple MVP1 deliverables. In mid-June, I had shared the list of activities under my ownership and had also requested that a resource be aligned for a smooth handover. Since then, I have made every effort to complete those activities, and most of the items shared at that time have now been successfully closed.

You may also reach out to the respective stakeholders and vendors to validate whether there are any major pending dependencies from my end. To the best of my knowledge, the remaining activities are either completed or in their final stages.

Regarding MVP2, most of the requirements have been handled by Adnan from the beginning, and he has also been actively involved in the testing and validation activities. I have not been directly involved in MVP2 deliverables and therefore do not foresee any major impact on those activities due to my release.

Ashok, I have been repeatedly requesting your support regarding my early release because of the family medical emergency that I have already discussed and for which I have submitted the necessary supporting documents. This is genuinely a very serious situation for my family, and I sincerely need your understanding and support at this difficult time.

Unfortunately, taking leave or working from home is not a feasible option for me. Due to the emergency, I need to relocate for approximately 3-4 months, and I will not be available in Mumbai during this period. Given the circumstances, it is becoming increasingly difficult for me to continue my office responsibilities beyond this week.

I am once again requesting you to kindly reconsider my request for an early release on 17th July. I am also willing to opt for the buyout option for the remaining notice period as per company policy.

I would also like to assure you that, even after my release, I will remain available over phone whenever required and will be happy to provide any support, clarifications, or project-related guidance to ensure a smooth transition and minimal impact on ongoing activities.

I have always tried to fulfill my responsibilities with sincerity and dedication, and I humbly request your support and understanding during this challenging time. Your approval and assistance would mean a great deal to me and my family.

Sincerely hope for your understanding and support during this difficult time and look forward to your positive response.

Regards,

Dear Siddhant,

Thank you for your update and for sharing your personal situation. We understand that you are facing a personal emergency and appreciate your openness.

After carefully reviewing your request, we are unable to approve the requested early release from your notice period.

While you have indicated that the major deliverables have been completed, this does not fully reflect the current project status or the scope of your responsibilities as the Product Manager. Your role extends beyond completing assigned tasks and includes driving end-to-end project execution, ensuring timely delivery, coordinating with vendors and stakeholders, managing dependencies, supporting production activities, mitigating project risks, and providing ownership until a complete and effective transition is achieved.

The project is currently at a critical stage, with several ongoing and time-sensitive activities, including:

- D365 MVP2 testing, requiring continuous coordination and monitoring.
- D365 MVP2-UBONA testing, including telephony tracking activities, observation

- MVP1 FastTrack planning.
- Pending MVP1 deliverables and dependency closures and confirmation
- Ongoing production support.
- Daily coordination with vendors to track project progress.
- Monitoring testing observations and driving timely resolution.
- Managing cross-functional and infrastructure dependencies through regular follow-ups and stakeholder engagement.

Although the business team is managing business testing and the project team has assumed certain responsibilities to ensure continuity, this should not be interpreted as a complete handover or transition of ownership. The remaining team members are already managing additional responsibilities to maintain project continuity and delivery commitments.

As a Product Manager, ownership includes ensuring continuity of delivery, minimizing project risk, and completing a structured knowledge transfer before exiting the organization. At this stage, your continued involvement remains essential to the successful execution of the ongoing initiatives.

As discussed previously, we have explored reasonable alternatives, including leave and work-from-home (when required) arrangements to support your personal circumstances while maintaining business continuity. Given the current project commitments and resource constraints, an early release is not feasible.

Accordingly, you are expected to continue supporting the project through your notice period, complete all planned handover activities, close pending dependencies, and ensure a smooth transition of responsibilities before your last working day.

We appreciate your cooperation and professionalism during this period and expect your continued support in meeting these commitments.

Regards,

Thanks & Regards,

Ashok Sharma

Hi Aparna/Geetha Ma'am,

This is a gentle follow-up regarding my request for early release on 17th July.

I would like to highlight that taking leave or working from home is not be a feasible option in my situation. Since I am required to relocate due to the family emergency, I am uncertain whether I would be able to return later to submit my company's assets, including my laptop.

Additionally, I have completed all major deliverables assigned to me, and the few activities that are currently in progress are in their final stages. I am making every effort to ensure a smooth closure and handover of my responsibilities before my release.

If required, I would be more than happy to connect with you along with my father's doctor to provide further details regarding the medical situation.

I humbly request your understanding and support during this difficult time and would greatly appreciate any assistance in expediting the process.

Hi Ashok,

I would like to bring this matter to your urgent attention.

As previously discussed, I had requested an early release by 10th July due to a serious family medical emergency. However, the date has already passed, and the situation at my end requires my immediate attention. Therefore, I would like to once again request you to kindly consider releasing me on or before 17th July.

Given the circumstances, I will not be in a position to continue reporting to the office beyond this date. I have already discussed the seriousness of the situation with Geetha Ma'am as well. I am also willing to opt for the buyout option and bear the recovery amount for the remaining notice period, as per company policy. Additionally, there are no major project dependencies pending from my end.

I humbly request you to kindly review my situation and provide your approval at the earliest so that the HR team can proceed with the necessary exit formalities accordingly.

I would greatly appreciate your support and understanding during this difficult time.

Dear Geetha Ma'am & Ameya Sir,

I hope you are doing well.

I would like to request your approval for an early release by opting for a partial notice period buyout, with my proposed last working day as 10th July 2026. This request is primarily due to personal/family commitments that require my attention, making it difficult for me to continue for the complete notice period.

I have reviewed the organization policy, which mentions that the payout option is available in lieu of the notice period (screenshot attached for reference).

I would also like to highlight that although I have been on the payroll of 5paisa, I was aligned with the IIFL Capital D365 project. Over the past three weeks, I have been re-aligned back to 5paisa to manage the D365 project. Given this transition, there are currently no major dependencies from my end.

Additionally, I have already prepared a detailed handover and transition plan, and I am confident that all knowledge transfer activities can be completed within 8-10 days, ensuring a smooth transition without any business impact.

Further, I have 25+ earned leave balance, which can also be adjusted against the remaining notice period, thereby reducing the overall buyout duration.

Considering the above, I kindly request you to approve my early release by allowing a partial buyout of the remaining notice period and confirming 10th July 2026 as my last working day.

Please let me know if any further discussion or inputs are required from my end.

Thank you for your understanding and support.

12. Resignation.

- 12.1 You may resign the services of your employment with the company and time during the probation period by giving 45 Day(s) days written notice or pay 90 Day(s) day salary in lieu of notice period subject to HOD approval
- 12.2 Upon confirmation of your service the Company. You may resign the services of your employment with the Company any time during regular employment by giving not less than 90 Day(s) days written notice or pay 90 Day(s) days Notice pay in lieu of notice period. However, persons in responsible posts or persons having undergone specialized training may be directed to serve the notice period and in such case, even where any leave balance exists, the person shall be liable to serve the notice period as applicable. (Notice Pay in the Letter of Appointment would mean Basic plus any allowances (Gross Salary) that are paid on a monthly basis to an employee) As part of the exit formalities, you may be required to sign and submit such other documents, as may be decided by the company from time to time and in the format as prescribed by the company.

Dear Ashok and Geetha Ma'am,

I hope you are doing well.

Please accept this email as my formal resignation from my position at 5paisa Capital Ltd. After careful consideration, I have decided to move forward with the next step in my career.

As per my employment terms, I understand that the required notice period is 90 days. However, I would like to respectfully request an early release after serving 30 days of notice, with my proposed last working day being 10 July 2026. Considering the situation, it would be extremely helpful if my release could be accommodated earlier than the standard notice period.

To support this request, I am willing to buy out the remaining notice period and pay the applicable amount for the unserved days, as per company policy. Additionally, I currently have more than 25 leave days, which I request may also be considered while evaluating my early release request.

I am fully committed to ensuring a smooth transition by completing all pending responsibilities, providing detailed knowledge transfer, preparing necessary documentation, and assisting the team throughout the handover process.

I sincerely request your approval for an early release and would greatly appreciate your support and understanding.

Thank you for the opportunities, guidance, and support provided during my tenure with the organization. I am truly grateful for the experience and learning gained here.

I look forward to your favorable response.
